

The Retiring Offering in April is for

Prostate Cancer UK has a simple ambition - to stop men dying from prostate cancer. Through shifting the science over the next 10 years to focus on radical improvements in diagnosis, treatment, prevention, and support, they will stop prostate cancer being a killer.

Their Mission

To help more men survive prostate cancer and enjoy a better quality of life. This disease claims the life of one man every 45 minutes in the UK.

What they do

They support men and anyone affected by Prostate Cancer and provide vital information, telephone and email helplines and specialist nurses. They find answers by funding research into causes and treatments.

You will be able to donate after the service each Sunday this month and at the Tuesday Coffee Morning.
